

DIAZ CONTEMPORARY

Neil Campbell

Nicole Ondre

26 July to 23 August 2014

Opening Saturday 26 July from 2 to 5

We are pleased to present our summer show featuring the work of Neil Campbell and Nicole Ondre. While both Campbell and Ondre engage the viewer in acts of directed vision, their work follows differing agendas. Their respective processes break down painterly abstraction; in Ondre's work on the side of production; in Campbell's case on the side of perception. Together their work reveals affinities and tensions that generate powerful visual effects.

Neil Campbell is based in Vancouver and has exhibited extensively in international contexts. He is represented by Galleria Franco Noero in Turin and Office Baroque in Brussels.

Nicole Ondre is from Vancouver and is currently based in Berlin and Hamburg where she is completing her Master's degree.

This exhibition is curated by Toronto writer and curator Christina Ritchie.

The image shows two overlapping exhibition posters. The top poster is for Neil Campbell, featuring a white background with large, bold, white text. The name 'Neil Campbell' is the central focus, with 'Neil' and 'Campbell' separated by a large, dark, geometric shape. Below the name, the dates '26 July to 23 August 2014' and 'Opening Saturday 26 July from 2 to 5' are listed. In the bottom right corner, the Diaz Contemporary logo and contact information are provided. The bottom poster is for Nicole Ondre, featuring a dark, textured background with large, bold, purple text. The name 'Nicole Ondre' is the central focus, with 'Curated by Christina Ritchie' written below it. The same dates and opening information are listed in the bottom left corner, and the Diaz Contemporary logo and contact information are in the bottom right corner.
